Stepping into Green

Jacob Rodenburg

May 28, 2pm

Camp Kawartha Environment Centre

Jacob has taught in the field of Outdoor Education for more than 20 years. He is currently the Executive Director of Camp Kawartha, a summer camp and outdoor education centre. He teaches several courses at Trent University in education and environmental education. Join award winning outdoor educator, Jacob Rodenburg, as he discusses “nature deficit disorder” and offers up strategies for reconnecting children to nature. Learn how adults can deliver a message of hope to children when the news about environment degradation is so pervasive.
